A Speech for Mellon.
Worrying 24,000,000.
Fuss and Tunny.
Trouble in Jerusalem.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review.)

SECRETARY MELLON announces he will make two speeches for Republicans in October. He might make one short and effective, as follows:

"This Republican administration found the United States government in debt sixteen billions for Liberty loans. We have paid half of that. Give us a chance and we'll pay off the other half soon."

To please American business, Mr. Mellon should add to his speech:

"P. S.—I expect, D. V., to continue my work as secretary of the treasury after the fourth of March, 1929, although I ought to be giving attention to my own business."

MR. OZEL, of Newark, 63 years old, picked up a pinocchio hand, looked at it twice, gazing at all the double suit of hearts, except one jack and one queen. Then he fell dead.

The great Newton, completing calculations verifying his immortal formula of gravitation, "Directly as the mass and inversely as the square of the distance," found his hands shaking so, that somebody else had to finish the calculations.

He didn't drop dead, fortunately. Men's interests are of different kinds.

AT Lorain, O., Miss Betty Heywood is in the hospital dangerously wounded. Police, alleged to have fired on a car in which she rode, are in jail. They thought there was bootleg whiskey in the automobile.

Would it not be a good idea to make sure about the bootleg whiskey before shooting? Apart from the merits of prohibition, there is the fact that 24,000,000 automobiles are running in the United States. Must they all wonder which one will be shot up next?

GENE TUNNEY, retired heavyweight, is to be married in Italy. The youth of our day will add, "And how!" The civil ceremony will take place in the house where "burning" was loved, and wrote poetry. The civil ceremony will be performed by no less than the podesta of Sorrento, Duke Giovanni Moresca di Serracapriola della Salandra.

The religious ceremony will take place in the sacristy of the chapel of "Marry, Star of the Seas," a famous sanctuary.

Changing from fighting to literature, Tunney will get at home in Sorrento. There never was a prize fight there, but Ibsen, Gorky and other modern celebrities have lived there and all the ghosts of classical antiquity haunt it.

PUBLIC anger, with threats of rioting in Jerusalem, marred Yom Kippur, most holy Jewish day.

At the Walling Wall, where pious Jews gather on special occasions, a screen separating men from women, demanded by Jewish custom, was forcibly removed by police.

Jewish representatives and rabbis protested to the British high commissioner, cancelled a reception in honor of officers from three British warships and plan a protest to the League of Nations.

British authorities explain that Mohammedans, outnumbering Jews in the Holy Land 10 to 1, and objecting to the Jewish screen before the Walling Wall, threatened to occupy all the space where devout Jews gather, and to stone Jewish pilgrims.

The screen was removed to prevent loss of life.

Jerusalem, considered a most difficult post in the days of Pontius Pilate, the Roman governor, is not easy now, with Moslems so greatly outnumbering Jews.

A FEATURE of this campaign, interesting to politicians and misleading some of them, is increased registration of women.

ROCKY RIVER HOME DAMAGED BY BOMB; PANIC ON WEST SIDE

Man, Wife, Sister and Maid Thrown From Beds.

WINDOWS BROKEN

No Explanation of Two Explosions Within 15 Minutes.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 29.—Two terrific bomb explosions rocked two of Cleveland's suburbs early today, threw the residents of a 29-suite apartment house into a panic, and damaged a private home.

A bomb placed under the porch at the home of Paul K. Hackett, real estate broker, of Rocky River, threw Hackett, his wife, her sister and a maid from their beds. The front of the house was literally torn away. Damage was estimated at $2,500 or more.

Residents of the Traymore apartments on the West Side were awakened when a bomb exploded outside the apartment of John Schleimer, an official of the Puro Products company. The blast tore out part of a brick wall, broke nearly every window and showered plaster on the occupants of seven suites.

The explosions took place within 15 minutes of each other and at points relatively close together. No explanation could be offered in either case.

The quartermaster of the ship, a Chinese, led the pirates turning up on the officers and rest of the crew, the dispatch stated.

The proposed two-day visit here of the Ford tri-motored all-metal monoplane, piloted by Ray Loomis, formerly on the Detroit to Chicago air run, was canceled today, as a result of orders calling to the 16-passenger craft from Akron to Washington.

A telegram, announcing the change in plans, was received at noon by the Chamber of Commerce and the Beer-Hanks company, under whose auspices the arrangements had been made for passenger-carrying machines from the airport in Madison township on next Monday and Tuesday.

The pilot of the Ford plane said he would pass over East Liverpool on the hop from Akron to the national capital.

President Coolidge Makes Personal Appeal for Election of Herbert Hoover

SYMPHONY HALL, Boston, Sept. 29.—President Coolidge, in a message to the Republican state convention of his "home state," today made what was regarded by party leaders as a personal appeal for the election of Herbert Hoover and the Massachusetts Republican ticket.

There had been speculation concerning what the president would say as heretofore the party leaders said he has contented himself with a reaffirmation of his faith in Republican principles and practices.

The president's message to the convention follows:

"Although it seems a long time since I have attended a Republican state convention in Massachusetts my interest in the principles which has secured this result."

TWO INJURED IN RAIL WRECK

Engine and Three Cars Derailed at Red Bank, Pa.

OIL CITY, Pa., Sept. 29.—Two members of the crew were injured and several passengers were badly shaken up when the engine and three cars of the Buffalo-Pittsburgh night express, enroute to Pittsburgh, were derailed near Red Bank, Pa., about 40 miles south of here, early today, according to reports received here.

The report said that Fred Botterer, engineer, of Pittsburgh, was badly scalded and C. O. Saladee, of Oil City, fireman, was less seriously hurt.

The principles which has secured this result.

"This need should be fulfilled by beginning the next political year under the tried and experienced leadership of Frank G. Allen (Republican candidate for governor) and B. Loring Young (Republican candidate for United States senator) in our commonwealth and of Herbert Hoover and Charles Curtis in our nation."

"To our convention assembled for the accomplishment of these ends, I send my cordial greetings."

Harmony marked the opening of the convention and word from the platform builders said that all was harmonious there too, with a plank endorsing prohibition and Republican principles.

Red Cross Again Asks Storm Relief Funds

Less Than One-fourth of East Liverpool's $1,225 Quota Raised, Chapter Reports.

With less than one-fourth of East Liverpool's $1,225 quota of the $5,000,000 fund for the relief of sufferers in the hurricane-swept zones of Florida and Porto Rico raised, officials of the Ceramic City chapter of the Red Cross today renewed their appeal for contributions.

Exclusive of today's contributions, $304 has been received by W. E. Dunlap, cashier of the First National bank and chapter treasurer, the Rev. A. H. O'Brien, First Baptist church pastor and chapter chairman said.

Red Cross officials, pointing out that only one $50 check and few one dollar contributions had been reported, urged that no sum was too small to aid in the relief movement.

In the event East Liverpool fails to attain its goal within the next few days, plans probably will be made for a house-to-house canvass, it was said.

Walter L. Cheister, of Washington, field representative of the American Red Cross, will speak at a special meeting of the executive committee of the East Liverpool chapter Monday afternoon at 3:30 in the Y. M. C. A.

"Lone Eagle" Jumps Off Ahead of Major.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Major T. G. Lanphier, formerly in charge of Selfridge field at Detroit, and in Chicago with Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, his pal, narrowly escaped death and serious injury here today when the plane in which he was taking off from the municipal airport crashed to the ground.

Col. Lindbergh had just taken off ahead of Lanphier when the crash came.

A truck standing at the side of the field was stationary when the flagman in the field waved the "All Clear" sign. Lanphier's plane roared down to a runway and when about to clear the ground the wings struck the top of the truck which witnesses said had moved.

The plane dived on its nose. One wing was torn from the plane. As horrified spectators ran to the scene of the wreckage, Lanphier climbed from the debris unhurt. Another inch or more, witnesses declared, and Lanphier might have been injured seriously or killed.

GOV. FISHER INVITED TO ATTEND COUNTY ARMISTICE DAY CELEBRATION

Beaver Post Completes Plans for Observance of Tenth Anniversary of World War.

BEAVER, Pa., Sept. 29.—With Armistice day little more than a month away, officers and members of Philip J. Davidson post, American Legion, today were completing plans for the county-wide celebration to be held. Governor Fisher and other members of his official cabinet are expected to be here. Demonstrations in the use of heavy weapons of war will be a feature of the day's program. Officers and members of the local post are anxious that the town look her best when the visiting throngs arrive. For this reason it has been suggested that every home and business house along the line of march arrange to have a flag placed in the sidewalk at the curb. The line of march for the parade will include Third and Fourth streets, Buffalo street and East End avenue.

Many residents of the town and business houses already have their flags with permanent holders installed in the sidewalks at the curb. Much would be added to the appearance of the town for the big celebration if every home and business house along the line of parade displays the flag, all in uniform positions at the curbs. Residents who do not have such flags may procure them at a nominal cost by consulting with J. R. McLaughlin, at the office of Boyard Anderson Co., Third street, or with Jake Miller, at Miller's Cleaning Shoppe, in Third street. To insure a proper setting for the big celebration here on November 11 this work should be done soon, not left until the last minute, or some of it will have to go undone. If citizens of the town will cooperate whole heartedly in this matter it will be much appreciated by officers and members of the post.

Belgrade Officer Awaits Big Fortune From Rich Uncle

BERLIN.—The Yugoslav foreign office and the American consulate in Belgrade have taken official steps to ascertain whether the Belgrade police Corporal Nicholas Dronjak is really the heir to $25,000,000 in real American money or whether his inheritance is only another fairy story. The money is supposed to have been left Nicholas by his uncle, Nicholas Prodanovitch, who died in Portland, Oregon, in 1922. Prodanovitch is supposed to have died without making a will, so that his fortune, if any, is supposed to go to his sister, Martha Dronjak, who was the mother of Nicholas. Dronjak was officially notified by American authorities of his uncle's death and told to send in documents proving his relationship. This he did five years ago, but hasn't heard of the matter since.

Seeing—and "feeling"—is believing—a new room in a day

Changing to a cheerful, sanitary hardwood floor certainly does make a room seem like new. But—such new room in a day, that may sound exaggerated. Well, it isn't. CROMAR is the reason. You see, what makes the installation of an ordinary hardwood floor take so long, is the scraping—and polishing—and several coats of finishing. Incldentally, that runs up the cost. But CROMAR, the patented hardwood floor, is completely finished by machines, at the factory. Two carpenters start laying CROMAR right over your old floor in the morning, and you use that "new" room in the evening! You ought to know all about CROMAR. MAYOR ISSUES

CURFEW ORDER

Because "too many children—young children—are on the streets at night instead of at home with their parents where they should be," according to Mayor Wallace L. Fogo, the curfew will sound every night from now on and the deadline is 8 o'clock.

Children under 15 years of age will be expected to be in their homes at 8 o'clock, unless accompanied by their parents or older persons.

"It is not well for young children to join the streets at night," the mayor points out. "There is too much of a tendency for them to get into trouble. I do not believe the majority of parents want their youngsters on the streets at night."

And the curfew, by the way, will not "ring." Because the siren at the fire station will be used to signalize the curfew hour.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 29.—As time marches on, the feat of Columbus becomes more marvelous to those who make use of the accumulated nautical science of centuries. That he was able to find land on his epoch-making voyage with only the limited information of the times at his command, suggests that he either was a remarkable navigator or a bit lucky. Men who have shared in the work of making the seas almost as well marked as the streets of Washington and, according to them, safer than probably that he was both.

Every one of the charts or instruments or formulae that has been devised to aid navigation becomes as much a part of it that it seems almost impossible that mariners were ever able to do without it.

Recently a device has been perfected with the assistance of the coast and geodetic survey which has already been put into service on eight ships of that government agency. It is rapidly being adopted by vessels in commerce and by pleasure yachts. Fathometer is its name and its function is to make useful what was formerly considered only ornamental, the echo.

Members of the coast and geodetic survey desired the development of equipment like the fathometer in order to facilitate their task of surveying the sea. They found that this particular instrument not only speeded up a d made easier their work, but that it was another safeguard for those at sea. In filthy and foggy weather, in blackest night the mariner can bring his ship through safely with echo sounding. Not only can he feel, or literally, hear his way, but he can lay out his course by comparing his soundings and the chart freckled with the figures representing known depths.

The men who are making the sea safe for navigation have found that by means of echo sounding they are able to survey more than twice as much area in one day as they could in what chronic regretters call the good old days, and that their findings are even more accurate. These results alone would make the fathometer valuable to science, but the additional protection that it affords to seafarers makes it doubly an asset. Both indirectly and directly it serves sailors.

In order to determine the depth of water, the length of time required for a sound to make a round trip from the ship's bow to the ocean's floor is multiplied by one-half the velocity of sound in water. Temperature and salinity affect the velocity of sound slightly, but the application of corrections will reveal the true depths. It is possible to take soundings in water only a few fathoms deep or more than three miles deep.

The instrument which broadcasts sound and receives echoes is composed of three units, the sounder, receiver, and indicator. The sounder, which is like a powerful loud speaker, transmits vibrations to the water and the receiver is similar to a broadcasting microphone. Both are in the bottom of the ship, the former in contact with the water and the receiver is similar to a broadcasting microphone. Both are in the bottom of the ship, the former in contact with the water and the latter, protected by a water-proof container, is in water on the inside of the hull. The receiver is usually in the pilot's house.

The coast and geodetic survey provides many aids for mariners. After the seas are measured, the findings must be charted geographically with accuracy in order to be of value. Formerly in order to obtain this information it was necessary to determine the location of soundings by sighting visible short signals or buoys. Because bad or even hazy weather hampered this kind of visual measurement a system known as radio acoustic sound-ranging has been developed. But use of wireless signals a kind of audible measurement has been perfected.

Information concerning currents which are more variable than the tides are constantly revised by this bureau. It is valuable in navigation and in solving engineering problems, such as locating bridge piers and sewage systems. In spite of all the modern contrivances mariners must still use the compass for dead reckoning. Since it is constantly changing, compass corrections are issued.

It is said that sailors formerly judged the distance of their ships from shore by the loudness of the barking of dogs. The mariner who navigates by the barking dog method today does so, because he is wilful or ignorant, for nautical lore is on a scientific basis and is placed at the service of everyone.

There are those who claim that travel by water is now safer than by land. This is a demonstration of the truism that what is most dangerous becomes the safest, because the most safeguards are thrown up. Land travel seems the safer, consequently not as many precautions are taken. By the same token it can be foretold that air travel will become even safer than that on the high seas.

Q. What are golf clubs made of? R. H. H.
A. The golf clubs known as drivers, spoons, and brassies, are made of wood, putters are sometimes made of this material also. The heads of others are of malleable iron. Formerly the heads of wooden clubs were made of beech and apple, but lately these woods have been almost entirely supplanted by an American wood—persimmon. The old shafts were made of a variety of woods such as ash, lancewood, and greenheart, but modern shafts are almost exclusively of hickory. The finest are made of split hickory. This hickory which is split from the wood with the grain and not sawn off the plank.

Q. When were buffalo nickels put in circulation? M. T.
A. The buffalo nickels made their first appearance in circulation on February 12, 1913 at Fort Wadsworth, New York, at the ceremonies inaugurating the memorial to the North American Indian. This coin marks the first appearance on the five cent piece of the head of the American Indian and that is why the Indian Memorial Celebration was chosen as the place and occasion for its introduction into circulation.

Q. What animal does broadtail fur come from? R. P. Z.
A. Broadtail is defined as the skin from the winter-killed lamb of Bokhari origin.

NEW YORK Day By Day

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Gathering information about the decline or increasing popularity of hair bobbing is as difficult as picking up a ball of mercury with the fingers. Some say the craze has spent itself and others say it has just begun. Take your choice.

There is, however, a surprising increase of long hair among young girls. These are maids reared in the bob-haired era and consider long locks an adventure—something different. It is said 90 per cent of New York women between 17 and 40 are bobbed.

While many so-called flappers are permitting their hair to grow, there is an increasing number of elderly ladies bobbing their heads shingled. Many bobbing parlor report a steady patronage of women past 70.

The advocates of bobbing are heartened when Mary Pickford was shorn of her lovely tresses which indicates chiefly she is through with wistful movie roles. And Ina Claire, who is a shrine for flapper worship, continues to wear short hair.

One thing seems certain. Transformations are just a passing fad, and the purple, green and orange wigs seen about Paris have not taken hold in Manhattan. One of the new effects in coiffure is a wind blown bob with a middle part down the back on the third. He is one of those rare cards who will sit up with a gang until dawn without drinking or smoking, and wearing the wise old expression of an owl. He had his headaches and is extremely happy to be merely a spectator.

A New York bellboy was asking if the chef could fashion a good Welsh rarebit. "I expect he can," he pled, brightly. "He comes from a rabbit country."

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention Is Worth A Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland.

Why is it that sensible men and women, leaders of thought, engineers of public sentiment, teachers and preachers—why is it that they are willing meekly to endure an atmosphere of dust, smoke and germs? Why will they live in filth, breathing contaminated and disease producing air?

I sometimes say that educated people know everything except how to live. They know, appreciate and apply values, except such as relate to good health and long life.

It isn't enough merely to live to be eighty. To be active and effective at that age is far more important. Nobody wants to shuffle along, dragging dead or dying members, robbing the undertaker of his overdue employment. When the elasticity of muscles and springiness of gait are gone, what is left of the body is hardly worth keeping.

You don't need to break down ahead of schedule. It is within your power to fend off that evil day and to prolong your usefulness indefinitely. I firmly believe that the average man can add years to his expectancy of life. He cannot do it by crooking his forefinger twice a day. But he can do it by observing a few simple rules of personal hygiene.

What are these rules?

The first one relates to fresh air and skilful. There is no excuse to be without the former. I would rather have sunshine than to get along with sky-shine. But sometimes it is impossible to have sunshine, while sky-shine is always available.

Man could not live in a thermos bottle. Neither can he long survive an atmosphere as dead and lifeless as would be found in a giant thermos bottle. Why will men and women suffer the atmosphere hazards of the average business office?

Recently I saw a senate committee room, heretofore unlivable, converted into a place of sweet, clean air. There are two windows, each with a transom. An electric fan was fitted into a round opening in each transom. One fan directed a current of air inward and the other blew it outward. In this simple manner there was established a circulation of pure air without dangerous drafts.

There are other methods of ventilation, but I have little faith in a single one of them as the sole means Banish That Inferiority Complex. Do you sometimes "cuss the luck" which made you less attractive than some others you know? You are not pleased with your reflection in the mirror. You see many defects in face and stature. Then the thought comes that possibly you are inferior to those who have more regular features and a better physique. Thinking thus, you lose faith and confidence in yourself. And then your self-criticism becomes a serious matter. Inferiority complex has made thousands fail to make good. And it is such a foolish assumption. If you have a good brain, properly used, that is the important thing. Physical defects, facial blemishes are superficial things in comparison with the inner personality. You may be as homely as the proverbial "mud fence," but if your soul and heart and mind are attractive it is bound to shine through, if you will let it. It is the pleasing personality even in an unattractive exterior that makes and holds in the end. And it is the power to hold that counts.

Other Editors Say

They Want Tax Equality.

At the recent national convention of Business and Professional Women's Clubs at New Orleans, it was decided to take an interest in legislative matters of interest to women. The measure with which the business women of the country will concern themselves primarily this year is a drive toward increasing the income tax exemption for single persons. Many of the members of the clubs are single, and likewise in business, and it is claimed that the income tax laws which give a preference to married women and men is an injustice to their class. So the next session of congress will hear some special arguments why this inequality should be leveled.

It has been only of late years that congress and state legislatures have been penalizing single taxpayers. In the early days of Ohio it was the other way round. The poll tax, until forbidden by a constitutional amendment, was in effect in the early days of road building. It was the duty of the supervisor, each year before the first of May, to "warn out" all men over the age of 21 years and under the age of 50 years to perform service upon the roads at such point as might be designated. The unmarried man was compelled to work one day with hands, and the married man was compelled to work two days, in order, to satisfy the poll tax. Just why the single man was relieved by working one day instead of two days which the man with the family had to perform has never been satisfactorily explained.

Since this policy was in effect the tax collector has made a drastic change in his methods. It is now the single man or woman who has to pay a higher tax. The business and professional women intend, if they can, to get equality in the taxation business.—Ak n Beacon Journal.

The airplane is gaining so fast in popularity and speed that it won't be long until you'll hop in your "plane" and fly away to Chicago right after breakfast and back home again before supper. But speaking of distance; you're a million miles from nowhere when you've ten little debts to pay and even the world's speedist craft won't do much good.

What you need is a small loan to pay up everything you owe. Then you can head straight for the landing field and glide down to earth again without any trouble at all. Any one in your family can arrange to get as much money as you may need whether it's to pay bills or to pick bargains or both.

WORK STARTED ON TABERNACLE FOR REVIVAL

Framework for Billy Sunday's "Big Shed" is Placed.

WILL SPEED JOB

Benjamin Gibbons Will Direct Laborers on Monday.

Framework for the Billy Sunday tabernacle on the playground, Second and Washington streets, was practically completed and placed in position today. The subsequent work of covering it will be done next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday by volunteer workmen from the churches allied for the forthcoming revival.

Necessary preliminary labor to the intensive three-day building will be done on Monday by carpenters under the direction of Benjamin Gibbons of this city, the whole being supervised by Albert L. Peterson of Iowa, the evangelist's advance man.

Final details for the construction of the temporary building were made by East Liverpool pastors and laymen who compose the executive committee of the W. A. Sunday evangelistic campaign in the banquet room of the Y. M. C. A. last night.

Composed of some 50,000 feet of lumber, the tabernacle will be 144 feet long and 88 feet wide. An addition that will seat more than 300 persons is likely to be built on its northern side at a later date.

The roof and sides of the structure will be of rubberoid, the former to be of two and the latter single ply. Four furnaces and as many stoves will furnish heat during the expected frosty days of the campaign.

The building is to be windproof and ideally constructed for comfort even during the most inclement weather.

"The tabernacle interior will be warm when it is cold on the outside and cool within when it is hot without its walls" declared Peterson. "We have gone far in constructing tabernacles by now and we know how to conserve heat and cold. With this same type of building we combatted successfully the extreme frigidity of the cold winter of 1917 while at Buffalo, N. Y., one of the country's coldest spots. Why, people there used to come to the tabernacle to get warm while suffering in their homes."

With the inauguration of the Liverpool-Belfast flying service, the time between the two cities has been cut to 90 minutes.

COHAN RIGHT, SIX ADS PROVE

Happy Endings for Classified "Short Stories."

The classified ads, like tales of fiction, are filled with the problems of humanity. Here are six "short stories" of the classified page, all of which have happy endings:

"Lost, strayed or stolen, Boston building, brindle with white face, answers to name of Fritzle. Reward. Call 520 or 2420-W."

Fritzle was found and returned to Mrs. W. H. Gerber, his owner, soon after the paper with this ad in it appeared on the streets.

And here's another—"For Sale—Pipeless furnace in good condition. Call 354-R." That appeared once and Mrs. Frank Irwin had to have the ad taken out after the one insertion.

It's easy to rent houses, too—"House of six rooms, furnace, electric, bath and modern in every way; double garage, central. Phone 2382-J. H. H. Holland." Mr. Holland conservatively estimates the number of inquiries on that ad at approximately 125.

Here's another house that went quickly—"For Rent—Modern brick eight room house, 427 College street. See C. A. Bough." The owner came hustling into the office and said "Take it out! They're running me ragged."

Folks recognize bargains when they see them. They read this in the classifieds—"Three good used coal heaters, $7.50 to $12.50; the J. A. Trotter Co." and afterward John McClure of the Trotter company vowed he could have sold many more if he had had them.

Nearly $10,000,000 will be spent in improving the harbor at Alexandria, Egypt.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Brilliant forward movements of the motor and industrial stocks were promptly resumed at the beginning of trading in the half session of the market today.

Shorts in Chrysler Motor were given further "punishment" as the stock jumped into new high ground above 120 in extremely heavy trading. General Motors recovered most of the ground lost in the early part of the week and new gains of a point or two were scored by Studebaker and the high-flying specialties, including Gillette Razor National Dairy products, carried their advances from 2 to 5 points under the stimulus of a powerful buying demand. A few of the metals stocks continued the buoyant movement inaugurated near the close of Friday's session, and Radio jumped 5 points to 211 in a new drive against the shorts.

FOUR DIVORCE ACTIONS FILED

Two Decrees are Granted by Judge W. F. Lones.

Through her counsel, H. W. Hammons of Columbiana, Mrs. Effie V. Barnes has filed her petition for divorce in common pleas court against her husband, George Barnes, who, according to the plaintiff, has been absent from his home for three years. They were married at Lisbon, Nov. 10, 1903, and have one child, now 21.

Mrs. Mary C. Weaver, of 113 Depot street, Salem has asked a divorce from her husband Albert C. Weaver, whose whereabouts the plaintiff does not know. She is represented by Attorney Cecil K. Scott. They were married at Wheeling, W. Va., Oct. 7, 1923, and the defendant is charged with gross neglect of duty. The plaintiff in addition to seeking a decree also asks the court to restore her to her maiden name, Mary C. Knox.

Mrs. Mildred Newlen, through her counsel, W. A. O'Grady, of Wellsville, has filed a divorce petition against her husband Clayton E. Newlen, said to be living in Harrison street, Newell, W. Va. They were married July 23, 1926, and have no children. Mrs. Newlen charges that her husband failed to establish a home, and that she has been compelled to seek employment in the potteries at East Liverpool. Newlen is a machinist's helper at the No. 4 plant of the Homer Laughlin China company.

Mrs. Ora V. Heckathorne has sued her husband, Joseph H. Heckathorne, Lincoln, Ill., for divorce, her counsel being P. V. Mackall of East Liverpool. They were married at New Cumberland, W. Va., Sept. 11, 1915. The petition relates that Heckathorne has been guilty of extreme cruelty, and that on Oct. 15, he struck the plaintiff and knocked her down on a street in East Liverpool. Heckathorne abandoned his wife two years ago, the petition declares.

The divorce petition filed by Richard M. Guidley of Knox township against his wife, Mrs. Audrey E. Guidley, has been dismissed by Judge W. F. Lones, and a decree has been granted the defendant on her cross petition, which alleged extreme cruelty on the part of the plaintiff.

Custody of a minor child has been awarded the mother, and the plaintiff has been ordered by the court to pay $4 a week for the support of the minor.

On the grounds of gross neglect of duty, a divorce has been granted Charles I. Semple from his wife, Mrs. Margaret Semple. The plaintiff was represented by Attorney Devere F. Grappy of Leetonia.

BERLIN SOCIETY TO USE LIQUID AIR TO SEND ROCKET TO PLANETS

BERLIN.—The Society for Space Navigation, consisting of the leaders of the movement to build a rocket airship which would propel itself into space and possibly reach other planets, announces that it has constructed a new rocket motor that is driven by liquid air.

The construction is supposed to do away with the defects and dangers of the gun powder rockets that wrecked the rocket rail cars of Fritz von Opel and Max Valier with which they tried to break the world's speed record.

It is hoped that the new motor will bring space navigation considerably nearer realization.

The new motor is based on the ideas of Professor Oberthmiediasch and is to be tried out soon in an airplane.

Liquid air as fuel is said to be much cheaper than gun powder, and above all, wholly without danger.

INSANE KILLER WHO FLED OHIO FOUND IN UTAH

Clarence Beard Held in Salt Lake City Jail.

WILL FIGHT CASE

Fugitive Has $45,000 in His Possession, Police Say.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 29.—Dr. W. H. Verban, superintendent of the Ohio state hospital for the criminal insane was to confer here today with State Director of Welfare John Harper in regard to steps to be taken to obtain the return of Clarence Beard, insane killer, who escaped from the Ohio institution on Sept. 3, and whose capture and identification was reported from Salt Lake City yesterday.

Beard was arrested in the Utah city last Sunday and was sentenced to 15 days imprisonment for trespassing in a railroad yard there. For five days he was imprisoned in the Salt Lake City jail with officials unaware of the fact that he had behind bars an escaped maniac for whom a nationwide manhunt was in progress. At the time of his arrest for the comparatively trivial offense, Beard professed to be Charles Schemacker, an itinerant working man.

Fingerprints Reveal Identity. His deception was discovered yesterday when an examination of his fingerprints showed they tallied with those of the man who had been serving a life term at the Ohio institution for the murder of Stephen Zaborziskis, bank employee, during a holdup at the Cleveland Savings & Loan bank last January.

Beard had $45,000 in his possession when taken into custody, according to dispatches from Salt Lake City, and has declared his intention of resisting all efforts to have him extradited although Dr. Verban at Lima last night stated that he would send one of his staff to Salt Lake City at once to have the fugitive brought back to the institution.

Overpowered Guard. Beard, together with Thomas McKenna, also a lifer at the state hospital, overpowered a guard at the hospital and escaped. In scaling a 20-foot wall, McKenna sustained a leg injury which eventually resulted in his recapture a few days after the "crash-out," but from the time of the jail-break up until yesterday, Beard had disappeared as completely as though the earth had swallowed him.

JAWARSKI MEETS HIS ATTORNEYS

CLEVELAND, Sept. 29.—Paul Jawarski, 27, killer of a Cleveland policeman, and notorious as a bandit and murderer in Pittsburgh and Detroit, was to confer today with attorneys appointed for him in court late yesterday.

The lawyers who will plead for Jawarski's life when he goes to trial Oct. 22, are H. H. Felsman and Sidney Galvin. Felsman, a well known Ohio criminal lawyer, seemed reluctant to accept the appointment. Mrs. Lucille Logan, Jawarski's sister, whose home is in Detroit, visited the gunman at the county jail late yesterday and gave him $2. Jawarski was shot and seriously wounded when he was captured Sept. 13, after killing a policeman. He is partially paralyzed.

HITS DRY ACT AS DEMS MEET

Former Republican Mayor Presides at Boston Session.

TREMONT TEMPLE, Boston, Sept. 29.—The unusual picture of a former Republican mayor urging the election of Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, and endorsing the governor's stand regarding the Eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act was presented to the Massachusetts Democratic state convention today when Rufus B. Dodge, four times Republican mayor of Worcester, was chosen temporary chairman and delivered a stirring address to a thousand men and women.

He termed the Eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act "detrimental to the morals of the people."

Mrs. J. H. Cromwell Divorced. RENO, Nevada, Sept. 29.—Charging that her husband made sarcastic remarks and induced her to write a letter to her mother, Mrs. Horace Dodge, which caused their temporary estrangement, Mrs. Delphine Dodge Cromwell was today divorced from James H. R. Cromwell.

The custody of the Cromwell daughter, Christine, 5, will be divided between her mother and father, both having been deemed "worthy parents."

registration has increased enormously.

Republicans taking for granted that this registration of women is all due to Herbert Hoover's humanitarian services in the war, may be too optimistic.

Women of Catholic faith feel that Gov. Smith is opposed on account of his religion, and that it is their duty to register and vote in numbers greater than ever.

The extraordinary registration of women will not be explained until November.

DRY M. P. SEES PROHIBITION FOR BRITAIN

Edwin Scrymgeour is Authority for Prophecy.

ATTACKS LIQUOR

Organizes for Local Option Fights in Scotland.

LONDON.—Britain will eventually declare for prohibition.

Edwin Scrymgeour, fiery member of parliament for the Scottish constituency of Dundee and the only man who ever got elected to the British legislature on a prohibition ticket, is the authority for this prophecy.

Sixty-two years of age, Scrymgeour is convinced that Britain will be dry before he reaches the allotted span of life. His chief bugbear in life is the so-called temperance worker, whom he condemns as a barrier to prohibition because they do not direct all their energies towards such a goal.

Slow in Coming.

"There is a dim outlook which prevents one from making any prophecy as to how long prohibition will be in coming to Britain, but I feel convinced it will come in my lifetime," Scrymgeour told an interviewer.

"There are no signs just now," he added, "on account of the want of faith and courage on the part of the temperance force of Britain but the situation will have to be confronted before long."

Scrymgeour is organizing secretary of the Scottish Prohibition party, which shortly is engaging in its yearly battle to obtain local option—a system of modified liquor control—in many Scottish districts. This year it is not expected the local election authorities will permit such polls in more than 20 districts.

Practical Solution.

"The only practical solution to the whole liquor problem in Britain is total abolition," Scrymgeour said. "It is on these lines only that any progress can be made, and I emphatically declare that the main barrier to the attainment of prohibition in Britain is the unpopularity of the temperance party to face their professed goal."

If the religious and temperance bodies of the country were to come to one decision on the question and proceed to the attack on that one decision we should capture the great body of rank and file temperance workers in the country."

Scrymgeour has a poor opinion of the workings of prohibition in the United States. "If we secured prohibition here," he declared, "I am sure we would make a far better job of the application of the law than they are doing in America."

NAB FIVE MEN IN KIDNAPING

Missing Chicago Girl Found in Kankakee Hospital.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Five men, friends of Andrew Cappellano, owner of the "kidnapers' farm" where little Billy Ranieri was held prisoner for ransom, were arrested today by Chicago police cooperating with police of Kankakee where the farm is situated. The men were rushed here for questioning.

Milly Cappellano, 6-year-old daughter of Cappellano was found in a hospital today in Kankakee, Ill.

The little girl, it was discovered, was burned in a bonfire several days ago and her injuries were such that her father and mother could not take her with them and the rest of the children when they fled hurriedly Thursday headed toward Canada.

In the meantime a nation-wide hunt started for Cappellano, who is believed to be one of the leaders of the Mafia kidnap band.

OHIO TOT DIES ON CROSSING

GROVE CITY, O., Sept. 29.—Ann Meadows, 5, was dead here today, victim of an impulse to run across a crossing of the B. & O. railroad here yesterday in front of an approaching train, according to the train's conductor.

The little girl's body was badly mangled and her identity only established through a bag of candy carried by the child which was found on the pilot of the engine when the train had been brought to a stop.

HOOVER HITS INTOLERANCE

Nominee Denounces Letter Mailed in Virginia.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—A letter, written on stationery of the Republican national committee, which urged Republican women to organize to "save the United States from being Romanized," was repudiated today by Herbert Hoover, Republican presidential nominee.

Hoover was so wrought up over the circular that after issuing one repudiation last midnight he called in reporters this morning and issued a second. He declared he did not want support on that basis.

"I can not fully express my indignation at any such circulars," said Hoover. "Nor can I reiterate too strongly that religious questions have no part in this campaign. I have repeatedly stated that neither I nor the Republican party want support on that basis."

"There are important and vital reasons for the return of the Republican administration, but that is not one of them."

Mrs. Clara Lyon of Virginia Highlands, Va., received the letter under the stamped signature of Mrs. W. W. Caldwell of Roanoke, national committeewoman from Virginia.

Attaches of the Hoover headquarters here said Mrs. Caldwell had sent a "few of these form letters" to Republican women in the state.

When the letter was called to his attention Hoover declared:

"Whether this letter is authentic or a forgery, it does violence to every instinct that I possess. I resent and repudiate it."

MISS COLLETT IS 10 UP ON MISS VAN WIE

Providence Golfer Sets Fast Pace in 18 Holes.

LOSES BUT ONE

Chicago Girl, 19, Terribly Nervous in Final Round.

CASCADES GOLF CLUB, HOT SPRINGS, Va., Sept. 29.—Glenna Collett, of Providence, R. I., was 10 up on Miss Virginia Van Wie of Chicago, in the first 18 holes of the final round for the Women's National golf championship here this morning.

Miss Collett played golf that can be characterized only by the adjective marvelous, on the morning round, for she lost only one hole. She captured a total of eleven and halved an even half dozen. She was out in 36, five under women's par and made the full eighteen in a total of 76, five under women's par and four under the medal score of 80 which Maureen Orcutt turned in on Monday.

Miss Van Wie, only 19 years old and playing the final round of a national championship for the first time, although she has played in several Nationals before this one, was terribly nervous all the time and her card showed a 91, 45 for the outward trip and 44 for the ingoing holes, on which she has been making a consistently better showing all week.

But there was no stopping the phenomenal playing of Miss Collett, out to establish a three year cycle for herself in the matter of winning the title, for she scored her first championship in 1922, repeated in 1925 and appears to be about to take the triplicate copy from the machine in 1928.

Ride this HUDSON

A personal experience will prove to you its performing leadership

We invite you as our guest to a personal demonstration of the Hudson Super-Six. We want you to learn how Hudson can do easily many things which you would not expect any other car to do at all. Scores of motorists, fresh from examining and riding in the latest cars offered by the industry, declare this Hudson the supreme performer of their experience.

Knowing that we are to prove all we say, we assure you that from the moment you take the wheel you will be conscious of a performance entirely distinctive from ordinary motoring.

In all Hudson does there is effortless ease. There is no motor labor—no sense at all of the mechanical. And whether in city driving or in high sustained speed over country roads its action and comfort are the very luxury of motion.

New riders and new buyers are saying, "There is no performance like it in the world."

You may not desire such ability or power, but it is important that this ability results from smoothness and a liberal margin of reserve. This means minimum wear and fatigue for both car and driver.

And though Hudson thus leads in its generous output of power, you can expect a fuel economy of around 15 to 18 miles per gallon! Thousands of demonstrations support this average.

Hudson's style and beauty are apparent at first glance. But to learn what Hudson is, please let us demonstrate to you. We invite you to know at first hand the performance that sets Hudson quite apart.

GOV. AL SMITH ENDS WESTERN TOUR TONIGHT

Milwaukee Wis., Gives Nominee Cordial Reception.

BET ON STATE Candidate Will Speak Prohibition in Former Brewing Capital.

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 29.—Governor Smith brought his presidential candidacy into Wisconsin today and Milwaukee gave him a reception such as it never accorded anyone, save possibly the late Bob LaFollette.

Tonight in the city auditorium, Gov. Smith will bring to a close his western trip. He will speak on prohibition. He deliberately chose Milwaukee, the former brewing capital of America, as the spot in which to explain his ideas of prohibition reform.

"I will speak about the Eighteenth amendment and the Volstead Act," said the governor.

Thousands Greet Governor.

Milwaukeeans said that no candidate for the presidency has ever received the reception which Milwaukee gave to Gov. Smith last night. Thousands surrounded the station when he arrived and other thousands packed the streets for two miles to see him. Red fire burned along the curbs.

Reports as to Gov. Smith's ability to carry the state in November vary according to the informant. The betting today was even money, with not much money being wagered either way.

Senator "Young Bob" LaFollette has thus far maintained silence concerning the presidential race. But most of his friends are working tooth and nail for Smith. Senator John J. Blaine, who is LaFollette's colleague at Washington and a former governor, has just come out for Smith, and announced he would neither vote for nor support Hoover.

Spends Two Days in City.

Herman E. Kern, now chairman of the state committee, and an old LaFollette lieutenant, is distinctly cool to the Hoover candidacy, while neither he nor LaFollette have endorsed Gov. Smith. It is well known that their friends are supporting Smith.

It is into such a situation that Gov. Smith stepped today. He is hopeful of carrying the state in November. His speech tonight is calculated to help him along the road. Milwaukee is wet and so is Wisconsin.

Gov. Smith will spend two nights in Milwaukee, the longest he has tarried anywhere since setting forth on his western journey two weeks ago. He will not leave Milwaukee until 12:30 Sunday afternoon for Rochester, and the Democratic state convention.

Cards' Pennant Hopes Glow As Result Of 15-Inning Triumph

Conquer Hornsby's Club As Giants Bow to Bruins

All They Have to do Now is Lick Lowly Braves Again Today; New York Defeat Will Mean the Same Thing.

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—It was only twelve hours ago that officials of the New York Baseball club were hastening hither and thither, as it were or maybe was, warning a distraught populace that it simply was no use asking them again. They had no reserved seats left for the ball game between the Giants and Cardinals tomorrow and, if everybody would just be patient and wait a little longer, they could guarantee to have even less than that.

All I can say now is that things have come to a parlous state when a man just knows that he won't sleep a minute more than twelve hours tonight, worrying about what the holders of those tickets might be able to use them for, if the Cardinals beat the Braves again this afternoon. I will be equally at a loss to fathom this problem even if the Cards don't beat the Braves this afternoon. For they can blow that ball game right down the old pipe stem and still take a bow as champions of the National league, provided the Giants blithely beat another to the Cubs.

If the thing that should happen today does happen, I can say with reasonable confidence that they won't take those tickets with them to the Polo grounds tomorrow and I'll even tell you how it is that I know so much. They won't be going to the Polo grounds.

YANKS BEAT TIGER S TO CLINCH FLAG

By LES CONKLIN.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—On the eve of the annual football game with Harvard, a group of Yale undergraduates once wired to the student body at Cambridge the message, "May the best team win!" the scholarly sons of Harvard reciprocated somewhat chidingly as follows: "May the BETTER team win!"

Well, the better team, and not the best team, won the American league pennant this year when the New York Yankees beat Detroit yesterday and the Philadelphia Athletics were mathematically eliminated.

The Yanks clearly outplayed the A's, sixteen games to six, but against the rest of the league the Mackmen had an edge of 7-12 games on the New Yorkers. With the Philadelphia-New York contests eliminated, the A's won 91 games and lost 38 while the Yanks won only 84 and lost 46.

Be that as it may, the Yagmen were victorious in the pinches and that gameness of theirs may give them another world's championship, despite the loss of Pennock, the poor condition of Lazzeri, Ruth and Koenig and the injury to Earl Combs, star center fielder. Combs, who fractured

The Cards this morning virtually are "in." They can go wrong but undoubtedly they won't. They got this way yesterday by pulling out another of their theatrical fifteen-inning finishes, while the Giants again were finishing a rousing second to the Cubs. The St. Louis entry thus went two games ahead of the situation with exactly two games yet to be played.

The Cardinals can join the Yankees today and make 1928 repeat itself. All they have to do is take the Braves again and this should be no trick at all for a ball club that can win two fifteen-inning games of almost tragic importance within four days. Besides, the Braves are all out of miracles after holding a prospective pennant winner scoreless for five straight innings from the tenth and the fourteenth inclusive yesterday.

ed his right wrist when he crashed into a concrete wall Thursday, is out of the series, in all probability. Paschal will take his place against southpaw pitchers and Durst will get the call against right-handers.

But the other Yankees regulars, their jubilation over winning New York's sixth pennant in eight years somewhat tempered by the loss of Combs, believe that Ruth, Lazzeri and Koenig can round into shape by taking a complete rest in the five days remaining before the start of the post-season classic.

Ruth's ailing knee does not seem to be affecting his batting, as he has walloped three home runs in his last three games. If a truck should run over the Babe in the next few days he might get real peeved and hit about a dozen homers in the world series.

George Pipgras' 24th victory yesterday was New York's 100th triumph of the season. Victors last year by nineteen games, the Yanks blew a 12-12 game lead this season and were out of first place three weeks ago. Today Miller Huggins' worries should be over, but he is just beginning to worry — about the world series.

Larkins On Varsity At State

Still With First Stringers as Wilce Cuts Squad.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 29.—While more than a score of Ohio college teams will get their first taste of football in the 1928 season today, intense training of candidates for Ohio State varsity and reserve elevens was being continued by Coach Jack Wilce.

Ohio State varsity squad will open its season here next Saturday when Wittenberg college at Springfield invades the Ohio stadium for the second consecutive season. The Buckeye reserves aggregation will pry the lid from its grid season in a match with the Ohio Wesleyan reserves, Oct. 13 in Columbus, while the varsity team plays its first Big Ten Conference battle with Northwestern at Evanston.

Yesterday, the only activity of the players was signal drill on several offensive formations. Each practice, however, narrows the selection of candidates for Coach John W. Wilce's eleven, unless unusual flashes of brilliancy are shown on the third, fourth or fifth teams. The number of likely candidates could already be sifted down to about a score.

Among the likely ones are George Alber of Toledo, Cyril Surina of Cleveland, M. R. Dill of Cleveland, and L. J. Fontaine, ends; Leo Raszkowski, of Cleveland, William Griffith of Cleveland, Joe Cox, of Dayton, and John Nesser, of Columbus, tackles; William Young of Kenton, William Reubeler of Dayton, and Joe Ujhelyi of Lorain, guards, and Red Barratt of Lansing, Michigan, Herbert Shear of Dayton, and Dick Larkins, of East Liverpool, centers. In the backfield are Allen Holman, of Fairfield, Ia., Charles Coffey of Salem, Lincoln Cory of Coon Rapids, It., and Art Huston, of Findlay, halfbacks; A. J. McConnell, of Massillon, Byron Eby of Chillicothe, and George Fouch of Mt. Vernon, quarterbacks, and Kruskamp and Don McClure of Toledo, fullbacks.

Barrett has suffered a strained wrist but will be back in a day or two. Final selection of members for both the varsity and reserve elevens is expected to be made by Coach Wilce following a practice game on the Ohio State practice field at 2 o'clock, this afternoon. The "Red" team, composed of the temporary varsity, will tackle the "White" squad which consists of other promising candidates for the 1928 Buckeye eleven.

Four other games, in addition to the Wesleyan contest, will be played by the reserve squad this season. Both the reserve and varsity team will play in a double-header affair at the Ohio stadium, Nov. 19. The varsity will meet the Iowa eleven and the reserve will play the Akron university reserve team in a preliminary match.

The reserves will travel to Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 20 for a game with the University of Michigan reserves. The team will play the University of Kentucky reserves in Columbus, Oct. 27 and the reserve squad of the University of Illinois, Nov. 24.

Five contests to be played by the varsity eleven bring the total number of home games at Ohio stadium to nine.

COAST ELEVENS OPEN CAMPAIGN

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—The leather pushers of the gridiron will begin their forced marches today along the Pacific coast, the beginning of a campaign for the conference championship.

Glenn Warner, who has been coaching football teams for these many years, will send his Stanford Cardinals against the Olympic club of San Francisco at the Stanford stadium at Palo Alto.

The trojans of the University of Southern California will clash with the Utah Aggies at Los Angeles. This game is expected to be a romp for the sun-kissed U. S. C. stalwarts, and will give Howard Jones a chance to observe his men in action.

Old Stuff for Miller Huggins

Miller Huggins

Miller Huggins, premier pennant winner of the American league, will be in the thick of the fight again in the fall classic. The Yankees clinched their sixth American league pennant and their third in succession by defeating the Tigers yesterday at Detroit, 11 to 6, in the third game of the series. The Athletics won from Chicago, 7 to 5, but the Yankees retained a lead of two and one-half games with only two more to be played by each of the contenders.

George William Pipgras, a leading cog in the Yankees' remnants of a pitching staff, but a failure until yesterday on this trip west, turned in the flag-winning victory. The Tigers produced him hard, but he had a good lead from the start. Gibson, Stoner, Smith and Page failed to stop the Yanks.

Babe Ruth hit his 53d home run in the eighth inning with Koenig on base. Page was then in the box for Detroit. Only a landslide now could give the Babe enough homers in his two remaining games for him even to tie his major league record of 60 set last year, but he may possibly get two more to make 1928 his third best season.

The Yankees first won the American league championship in 1921 and proceeded to reel off three in a row. Then after a second place finish in 1924 and a dip to seventh in 1925, the club regained the top in 1926 for the start of its second run of three. By winning six flags the Yanks move into a tie with the Athletics and the Red Sox, each of whom took six in their palmy days.

Leading College Teams Go Into Action Today

Fans Scent Upset Possibilities in Navy-Davis Elkins Game; Army Will Have Hands Full With Boston College.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The college football season enters its second week today with most of the major eastern college football teams in action for the first time this season. Numbered among those who are making their initial starts are Army Navy, Chicago, Columbia, Cornell, Fordham, New York university, Notre Dame, Penn State, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Carnegie Tech, Georgetown, Washington and Jefferson, Colgate, Indiana and Syracuse.

Yale, Princeton and Harvard will not start until next week.

The big game of the day is the meeting between Navy and Davis Elkins at Annapolis. The average fan craves upsets and there is the possibility of one in this fracas. The hyphenated collegians gave warning of their dangerous potentialities last Saturday when they treated the powerful West Virginia eleven to a 7-0 whitewash. Davis Elkins has two dangerous men in Rengle, fullback, and Elijah Smith, fleet-footed Indian halfback. Navy will have to watch its step in this game if the Middles wish to keep their slate clean of defeats this season.

The second feature game of the day is the game between Army and Boston university at West Point. A year ago this would have been reckoned a push-over for the cadets, but the loss of three men like Sprague, Wilson and Horn has not increased Army's strength. This year Boston university starts against West Point with a more optimistic outlook.

Among the other important eastern games are Boston college vs. Catholic university at Boston, Colgate vs. St. Lawrence at Hamilton, Cornell vs. Clarkson at Ithaca, Dartmouth vs. Norwich at Hanover, Georgetown vs. Mount St. Mary at Georgetown, Penn State vs. Lebanon Valley at State college, Pa., Pennsylvania vs. Ursinus at Philadelphia, Pittsburgh vs. Thiel at Pittsburgh, Syracuse vs. Hobart at Syracuse, Carnegie Tech vs. Westminster at Youngstown, Washington-Jefferson vs. Bethany at Washington, West Virginia vs. West Virginia Wesleyan at Morgantown, Columbia vs. Vermont at New York and New York university vs. Niagara at New York.

FRENCH FEATHER WINS TITLE BOUT

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The presidential year blight on champions of the ring came to roost at Madison Square Garden last night when Tony Canzoneri, a native New Yorker, surrendered the world's featherweight title to a foreign challenger, gallant little Andre Routis, of France. Routis wrested the crown from the Gothamite in a desperate 15-round battle.

PUNCH FEATURES JOLLY BOWL CARD

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Sept. 29.—Punch instead of science will be the keynote of the boxing show Monday night at the Jolly bowl, according to Promoter William Jolly, who has arranged two ten-round bouts, one six-round affair and two four-round eye-openers.

Here's the card: Young Saylor, Charleroi, vs. Mickey Fodore, Canton, 10 rounds, 155 pounds.

Alex Simms, Canton, vs. Walter Dickerson, California, Pa., 10 rounds, 154 pounds.

Todd Smith, Canton, vs. Joe Todd, Charleroi, 6 rounds, 144 pounds.

Joe Lauder, Pittsburgh, vs. Joe Corsey, Canton, 4 rounds, 146 pounds.

Larry Mattee, New Castle, vs. Johnny Thomas, New Castle, 4 rounds, 135 pounds.

From the foregoing it is Jolly's evident intention of finding a slugger who is capable of slugging Young Firpo, the Louisville executioner, as Firpo has invaded middleweight ranks with success.

Saylor has lost only three decisions in five years. He is one of the best boys for action that western Pennsylvania has and it looks as though Jolly will use his bowl Monday night to stage a battle between fighters who train at Charleroi and Canton.

Railway receipts in France are higher than last year.

RED WINGS WIN FROM INDIANS

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 29.—The Rochester Red Wings believe they have the Indians of Indianapolis on the run now for the high honors in the annual little world's series.

Rochester failed to win Wednesday with Steve Swetonic pitching but ran him up to the eleventh inning before being counted out, and yesterday against four of the pitchers counted on by the Indians they ran up a string of ten runs to win by a score of 10 to 5.

Bruno Betzel thinks so much of Bell's ability that he has been saving Yde to pitch against him.

It Never Pays

Romance in New York

By GILBERT ROGERS

"No, I'm going up to my room. I'd rather be alone now. I'd rather be alone. I feel too miserable. But I'm glad I've told you—glad. You're a sweet little thing. I never thought Dan would use you, too—like this. I'm sorry—sorry. Oh, perhaps it doesn't matter. I try to tell myself it doesn't."

Sally was alone. She had found out, she had learned the truth, but what was she going to do now?

Tell Shevlin she wouldn't go on, of course. Tell him right away. When he came back tonight—if he came back. It had all been a mistake anyway. Only a man like Shevlin would have been willing to suggest the plan in the first place—seeing that a girl had clothes, introductions, everything, in order that she might marry a wealthy man. Why it was fantastic, crazy!

As for the money that had been spent, the tainted money wrung from unhappy, unwilling men and women, she would get that back to him some other way. She had paid him already, if the secrets she had given him were to be counted, but she would not pay with other people's misery.

She would tell him simply, and he would be afraid and glad to let her go. As for Jerry—she'd write him in care of Mrs. Farrington, tell him everything, be honest about everything. If he cared—well, then it would be all right. And he must care, he must!

She looked back, remembering New York, the office, the apartment with her four friends. "I'm a million years older!" she thought. "I think differently and want different things. But what I've seen and done!"

The sound of a car outside, footsteps, and then Dan Shevlin stumbling into the room. Smiling grimly but with his face dead white, his hands shaking. He went over to the decanter, poured himself a drink, as if he needed it badly.

"That's better," he half-whispered. He turned and saw Sally, sitting silent and watchful.

"Hello!" he exclaimed with an air of bravado. "It's the little duchess! Well, what are you looking at me like that for? Eh?"

CHAPTER 25.

Sally's heart was beating violently. "I must keep my head! I mustn't be afraid!" she was saying to herself. And aloud:

"I've been waiting for you."

"Well, that's sweet of you. Sitting up for poor old Dan—waiting for him!"

Jovial, blustering, yet not quite sure of himself, with the sagging jaws, the unsteady hands of the gambler—Sally read him clearly now that she had the clue. How many times he had gained admittance to some frightened woman's house, some man's office, and threatened exposure mercilessly! A blackmailer and a dangerous one, with the unfortunate Mrs. Brooke as his tool. And now herself.

But she could get free. She was going to get free. "I just wanted to tell you, I'm leaving tomorrow morning. If you'll let me know what my clothes and things have cost you, I'll pay you back as soon as I can."

"Generous little thing, aren't you?" he asked. He seemed amused. He marched to the table, and poured himself another drink of whiskey. "Generous—why would you give the world away, if you had it? . . . But—suppose I should stop you? Suppose, I should tell you I wanted to be paid as we originally stipulated?"

Sally laughed. She was angry now, hating him for what he was, hating him most of all for what he had made of Carlotta Brooke.

"Oh, but I should refuse," she said. "You see, I've just found out you're nothing but a blackmailer!"

She had expected him to turn suddenly with a startled face, to pour out a stream of futile denials, to try to bluster his way out of it.

But he did nothing of the sort. In spite of herself she found she admired him for his coolness.

"Oh, have you?" he said glibly. "Well, if you don't mind my saying so, you've taken a long time to do it!"

Sally felt at a loss. He had acted so differently, he seemed so unmoved.

"Then you realize you can't stop me," she said weakly.

Shevlin shook his head, as if with sadness. "And to think I gave you credit for being clever!" he murmured.

Sally jumped to her feet. "I'm not going to waste any time. I just thought I'd tell you. I didn't need to, you know. Anyway, tomorrow I'll be gone."

"Wait!"

She halted at the door, against her impulse to go disdainfully on. But his voice had something besides a command in it, something that made her curious.

"What is it? I don't think there's anything else to say."

"You will presently, sweetheart!"

His sneer cut like a whip. Now she wanted to hurt him, in his complacency and his callousness.

He waved to a chair. "Better sit down. What I'm going to tell you is something you ought to make your own way—this time. . . . Remember when we talked things over in New York, and you wrote me a letter, a little letter?"

Sally bit her lip. She remembered only too well those lines she had written at his dictation, lines she had signed and that told anyone who cared to read that she had been everything to Dan Shevlin. A lie, but a lie that would be believed. But—what use was it, really? What harm could he do with it?

"You don't think that letter matters, do you?" she asked scornfully.

"Yes, I do—obstinate of me, isn't it?" He walked across the room, picked a cigarette from the box, and lit it. As he flicked out the match, he said gently: "Nice boy, Jerry Evesham, isn't he?"

A start went through Sally like an electric shock. She involuntarily clenched her hand with a little shiver. And she knew her face, her terrified eyes, gave her away. Shevlin laughed softly.

"You may wonder how I know. Well, you see, I always find it convenient to have a servant where I work who keeps his eyes open and reports things. Carlotta is on your side. But—I manage to hear everything, as you notice."

"Perhaps you do." Sally's tone was uneven. She was frightened now. "But just because—Mr. Evesham and I—just because—"

Shevlin cut her short. "Don't let's waste time! You can't lie to me. If I should send that letter you wrote to Jerry Evesham, what do you think would happen then?"

"He wouldn't believe it. He'd believe me!"

"Yes, he'd believe you, after finding out I staked you to come up and marry a millionaire, and you were willing!" He'd believe you the sweet, innocent little flower. I don't think! Listen, you don't know much about men!"

Sally's brain felt numb. A kind of terror filled her—terror of this man, back perhaps from a successful browbeating of Adrian Martin, and enjoying himself now by tormenting her.

What was he saying? Did he really mean to do that—did he really mean to show Jerry that letter? But she could explain—Jerry would believe her! And yet he hadn't quite believed her the night he had seen her in Adrian Martin's house, and with the letter coming on top of that—!

She was afraid. Her attempt to be calm, defiant—she had given up the pretense. "Let me go!" she pleaded. "Give me the letter back. I'll pay you what I owe. But let me go—don't make me unhappy!"

He drew in a long breath as if gratefully. "I thought we'd come to an understanding. Well, Sally, I'm going to show you I'm not such a bad fellow. I'll give you a chance to get your letter back and wipe out everything you owe me, too."

Husband Should Share Housework With Wife

British Leader's View

LONDON.—Men should share the housework with their wives.

This is the considered opinion of Miss Eleanor F. Rathbone, president of the National Union of Societies for Equal Citizenship, as expressed to members of the organization at Oxford recently.

"A man is paid not because he has a wife and children to keep but for his work. He might instead have a Pekingese dog or a cat, and expect to be paid for keeping them up with gasoline and canary seed."

"Men are not so helpless at domestic things as they are commonly supposed to be, or make themselves out to be. If they took a little more interest in household affairs, and women learned a little more about mechanical work, then the average small house could be run by both of them without maids or outside help."

MAJOR PARTIES BID FOR VOTE OF INSURGENTS

Disposition of La Follette Strength Factor in Election.

EYES ON WEST

Switch of 1924 Poll
Would Change Doubtful States.

WASHINGTON.—Republicans and Democrats alike are making their big drives in the west to capture those voters who supported the LaFollette Progressive ticket in 1924. Managers of both parties realize that the disposition of the LaFollette vote this year promises to be the decisive factor in the grain belt and in the mountain states. Senator LaFollette polled about 5,000,000 votes, but carried only one state in the electoral college. In Western States. However, in 11 western states, Iowa, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, California, Oregon, Washington, and Wyoming, LaFollette ran ahead of John W. Davis, Democratic candidate. Because of the LaFollette candidacy, President Coolidge, while winning the electors received a minority vote in 10 western states Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Idaho, Arizona, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico and Utah. The LaFollette vote in the grain belt was regarded more or less as a protest vote against the Republican administration for not enacting suitable farm relief. The Smith forces are trying to capitalize, as LaFollette did, on the farm unrest. The Republicans are endeavoring to hold the farmers into line, for the middle west, except during notable instances of economic disturbances, has been normally Republican. Hold Whipland. In this situation the Progressive voters hold the whipland. It is significant that Herbert Hoover already has spoken in the middle west and Gov. Smith's first campaign trip was planned to carry him through the heart of the country which supported LaFollette. An analysis of the 1924 vote reveals how easily the so-called doubtful states in every section of the country can be changed by a switch of a few thousand votes. The following table shows the 1924 percentage of Republican, Democratic and miscellaneous (LaFollette, Socialist, etc.) votes:

G. O. P. PLANS GREAT RALLY IN NEW YORK

Hoover Will Speak at Garden on
Oct. 13.

BIDS FOR STATE
Nominee Will Deliver
Straight Political Speech.

BY WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Herbert Hoover will head one of the greatest Republican rallies ever held when he speaks at Madison Square Garden in New York City on Oct. 13, it was learned today. The Republican nominee will make a straight political speech, intended to stir up enthusiasm among party workers in the Empire state. He will direct, of course, to reassure both business and organized labor, by brief discussion of Republican issues affecting their welfare. In the end, he will seek "harmony" in the party and his principal efforts will be to create political "whoopie" so the party boys will go out and carry the state for the Republican ticket in November. Invasion of Smith Balliwick. One of the greatest assortments of Republican organizations, ever assembled under a single roof, have been invited to the rally. The list includes the Union League club, the Republican National committee, the Republican national women's organization, the Republican Business Men's association, and the Republican county and state committees of New York. The candidate will plan his speech carefully. It will be his "big bid" for the Empire state's electoral votes and his first invasion of Gov. Smith's balliwick. Completes Elizabethton Speech. Hoover meanwhile has completed his Elizabethton, Tenn., speech. With this speech finished, the nominee made a number of engagements for this day. His calling list included Senator Vandenberg (R) of Michigan, the Republican Service Men's League of New Jersey and the Knights of the Round Table. The Republican national committee meanwhile continued to fire away at Smith. Senator Moses (R.) of New Hampshire, issued one statement, declaring Smith had turned homeward "after what must have proved to be a most disappointing expenditure of time and effort—to say nothing of his show-car million dollar special train." He charged Smith with being "both for and against" the McNary-Haugen bill and with "sidestepping" Senator William E. Borah, who has become Hoover's outstanding champion on the stump.

MT. VICTORY, O., BANK IS CLOSED

KENTON, O., Sept. 29. — Doors of the Mt. Victory bank, near here, were closed to business today for the first time since its opening in 1858.

The bank was closed by state bank examiners who reported frozen assets in the form of farm loans.

The bank's capital was reported at $30,000, and its assets at $380,000.

While a production of passenger automobiles in Germany is declining, the output of trucks is holding up.

DECIDEDLY CHIC
The double breasted coat styling is a conspicuous new type for sports shown in Design No. 3256, which also reveals the one-sided note in button closing.
